Art Unit: 1755

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a self-assemble composition of a guest species dispersed in a self-assembling molecule gel and the method for making it, classified in various classes and subclasses, depending of the composition of the species.
- II. Claims 15-18, drawn to a method of orienting a guest species in a self-assembling molecule gel, classified in various classes and subclasses, depending of the composition of the species.
- III. Claims 19-21, drawn to a lasing medium, classified in class 252, subclass 301.16+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Claims 1-6 and 8-14 of invention I and invention II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different functions and/or different effects.

Inventions III and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different functions and/or different effects.

Claim 7 of invention I and Invention II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)).

In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as electric particles dispersed in a gel not made of self-assembling molecules and the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, such as using a magnetic field to orient magnetic guest species in a self-assembling molecule gel.

Inventions I and III are related as product and use of the product. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can have a materially different use, such as a polarized photoluminescent material.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II; the search required for Group I is not required for Group III, and the search required for Group II is not required for Group III restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
